

WELCOME TO
MINDS — MIND THE STRUCTURE!

Aarhus University, Dept. of English

October 1, 2021

(updated March 14, 2023)

THE LOVE

- We like everything to do with syntax – theoretical, empirical, experimental, dialectal, historical, parsing, corpus, comparative – and morphology, semantics, pragmatics, and psycholinguistics.
- We like tree structures, as well as figures, graphs, plots, tables, maps, statistics (R, Excel) – oh, and tree structures.
- We like cake, chocolate, candy...

THE RULES

- Presenters will each have 10-15 minutes for their presentation (MA theses slightly more) followed by 10 minutes for discussion.
- Exam paper presentations are about what they did in their respective papers. (What was it about? What did they find/argue? Were there any problems/issues/challenges? etc.)
- The setting will be very informal, and presentations will serve as inspiration for other students.
- We would encourage people to come to all the meetings (not just the one where they present their own work) and to invite other students who might be interested.

THE WEBSITE

<https://tildeweb.au.dk/au572/minds.html>

<https://www.facebook.com/mindthestructure>

